BABIES IN DEMAND.

Supply Not Adequate to Calls Made by Prospective Foster Parents.

The State meeting of the Children's Home Society, to be held in this city next Wednesday, promises-to be the most successful in the history of the society. The work of the society is to get good homes for children who have been deserted by their parents or left orphans and to aid poor parents to bring up their children instead of allowing them to be sent to some insti-

The work has grown to large proportions in the last four years and of the 800 chil-dren placed in homes, only seven have been committed to any reform school. The demand for babies to be adopted is from six to ten times greater than the available supply, and letters are always on file from persons anxious to become foster parents. Delegates from all over the State will be present at the meeting Wednesday. One of the features will be a movement toward helping children in homes where there are so many and the circumstances are such that the children are neglected. The offices of the local society are in the Central Trust building, on East Market street. Mrs. Irene Webb is the district superintendent for Indianapolis,
